Guidelines for submission:

- You must be a current member of Women Who Write, Inc.
- Word Counts: Poetry and Prose—up to 1,800 words per submission
- Each member can submit up to 2 Poetry and 2 Prose pieces. The number of pieces selected to be published will be limited to 1 Prose piece and 1 Poem per member.
- Works can be fiction, creative non-fiction, Memoir, or a mix of genres. Research and reference pieces will not be accepted. Political pieces will not be accepted.
- Do not submit a work that has been published previously in Goldfinch or elsewhere.
- All works must be fully edited at the time of submission - changes cannot be accepted.
- Works containing quoted/referenced material must include references or bibliography.
- Works containing photos must include photo credits. Photos may be published in black and white. The Editor cannot guarantee photos will be published.
- Each submitting author should submit one short biography (submitted as a separate Microsoft Word document – maximum 100 words). Bios should be written in the third person. If no bio is received or the submitted bio is greater than 100 words, the bio from the WWW directory (if available) will be used (edited for length if necessary). Bios submitted outside of this process cannot be accepted.

By submitting your work, you acknowledge that it is your own work and it has not been published previously. You acknowledge that you are a current, standing member of Women Who Write, Inc. You acknowledge that your work may be edited and published in Goldfinch Vol. 26 (2023-2024), which may be published online.
